

befreeyourself

science don't care about politics painting by Ruth Wilgress music inspired by environmental activism befreeyourself.com

painting by Rachel Ball

APPEARING AT:

Both Juno nominees, Christopher Hess and Terry Christenson founded befreeyourself twenty years ago and have been privileged to work with many very creative people over those seasons. This two hour show 'science don't care about politics' is an invitation to join them in celebrating the collaborative spirit. There will be special guests and many genres of music inspired by environmental activism and human/animal rights heroes. The show will be recorded and filmed so please feel welcome.